

Idaho Transportation Department

I am pleased to announce that Vincent Trimboli is joining ITD as the Public Affairs Manager. In his role, Vince will be responsible for directing all aspects of media relations, marketing, and communication statewide. He will act as the Chief spokesperson and public information officer for the Department.

Vince holds a Bachelor's Degree in Broadcast Journalism and has been in the communication business as a community/public relations manager, brand developer and a journalist for more than 20 years. He has spent the last nine years as the Community Relations Manager for the City of Boise Public Works Department. He worked with staff, along with Department and City leaders to proactively roll out some of the biggest communication, branding and outreach programs in Boise history.

He started his career working for small radio stations in Montana. Along the way, he has worked as a daily newspaper reporter, a television news reporter/producer and sports director, even the Dallas Cowboys, and any other communication job or volunteer opportunity he could sink his teeth into.

He is extremely excited to join the ITD team and work with the Department's veteran communications staff. He's a father of two boys (6 and 9) and an outdoor enthusiast (trail running, biking, camping, rafting and fishing). He looks forward to being around during parts of WASHTO getting to know some of the staff. If you don't meet him that week, he will be eager to talk to you soon after. He will be here full-time on August 3.

Please join me in welcoming Vincent to ITD.

Brian W. Ness
Director